Keio Plaza Hotel Hosts Japanese Sword, Military Armor Exhibition - “Soul and Beauty of Samurai Sword Culture”

This exhibition is complimentary and will be held from December 27 (Friday), 2024 until January 28 (Tuesday), 2025

TOKYO - Keio Plaza Hotel Tokyo (KPH), one of Japan’s most prestigious international hotels located in Shinjuku, Tokyo, will host another special cultural exhibition entitled “Soul and Beauty of Samurai Sword Culture” from December 27 (Friday), 2024 to January 28 (Tuesday), 2025. Approximately 30 Japanese swords and other military items created by legendary master weapons craftsmen will be on display at various locations throughout our hotel to give visitors glimpses of the aesthetic beauty of Japanese military armor. This exhibition is held in cooperation with “The Society for the Promotion of Japanese Sword Culture” (NBSK, <https://nbsk-jp.org/english/>, Kita Ward, Tokyo, Chairman Shunji Murai) and will provide visitors with various information about the 680 year history of Japanese samurai swords and military items, including the samurai culture’s contributions to the Japanese sense of aesthetic beauty. Japanese swords are growing in popularity around the world not only because of their aesthetic beauty and cultural relevance, but also for the extremely durable and lightweight nature of their highly unique forged steel composition, which is made by using the highest quality forged steel manufacturing techniques in the world.

Also as part of this exhibition, a special event will be held from January 11, 2025 demonstrating “Iaijutsu”, a symbolic sword handling demonstration reflecting the Japanese tradition of ringing in the New Year with events designed to ward off bad luck for the coming New Year.

Currently about 80% to 90% of Keio Plaza Hotel guests are visitors from overseas, and we have created a wide ranging program of exhibitions that display and various aspects of Japanese culture and appeal to both overseas and Japanese visitors.

■ Special Event Overview

From January 2025, the Keio Plaza Hotel will conduct a live Japanese sword performance called “Iaijutsu” as a symbolic ritual to ward off negative events in the New Year. This performance will show visitors traditional movements using Japanese swords. Japanese swordsmiths’ manufacture of swords was sublimated to become a nouveau artform along with the abolition of the use and carrying of Samurai swords from the Meiji Period (1868 to 1912). And we invite everyone to come visit the “Soul and Beauty of Japanese Swords and Military Armor Exhibition” to see and experience the historical romance of this traditional Japanese craft, artform and culture.

■ Keio Plaza Hotel Japanese Cultural Events Program

The Keio Plaza Hotel provides luxurious and comforting accommodations to visitors from over 100 different countries, who currently account for 80% to 90% of our guests. While our Cultural Events Program was curtailed due to the spread of the coronavirus, we have expanded this Program along with the recovery in inbound tourists visiting Japan and staying at our hotel to the pre-pandemic levels (79.5% in 2019) to an even higher 88.3% of all guests in the first half of 2024.

Our Hotel was opened in 1971 in the tallest building in Japan at the time and became the most representative hotel in Japan. Since our opening, we have endeavored to promote a broader understanding of Japan's culture through our program of a wide range of Japanese cultural events, including exhibitions of Japanese Noh theatre, traditional crafts, and various other aspects of Japanese culture. The upcoming event highlights the aesthetic beauty and historic relevance of Japanese swords and related military armor used by Japanese Samurai.

Press release about our exhibition Japanese Noh Theatre held in 2023:

The Society for The Promotion of Japanese Sword Culture explains that the previous Sword Exhibition held at our Hotel was a great success due to the large number of inbound overseas visitors staying at our Hotel who have a keen interest in Japanese culture, and also because of the convenient location of our Hotel. Furthermore, various swords will be available for purchase in the upcoming exhibition due to the strong interest of inbound visitors to own Japanese swords.

■ About The Society for the Promotion of Japanese Sword Culture

The goal of The Society for the Promotion of Japanese Sword Culture is to promote an understanding and interest for Japanese swords. The Society creates opportunities to experience Japanese swords and their tradition at exhibitions of various Japanese swords and sword making techniques.

The Society also hosts workshops of various swordsmiths to demonstrate the traditional sword making techniques to the public. Another important role of The Society is to issue "Certificates of Authenticity" for modern Japanese swords, and it will continue to pass on the Japanese sword culture to people not only in Japan but also from around the world.
